By signing below, the parent or legal guardian confirms that they have read the ISRC Journal Guide for Authors and gives the International STEM Research Challenge (ISRC) permission to:

- create and keep an author account for the student, holding the student's name, grade, school, country and email address, and the parent or guardian's name and email address;
- receive the student's article and share it, without the student's name, with reviewers;
- contact the student and the parent or guardian by email about the article;
- if the article is accepted, publish it open access on the ISRC Journal website with the student's name, grade, school and country.

We confirm that the article is the student's own original work. We understand that a published article can be read and shared by the public, that an article processing fee of $75 is charged for an accepted article, and that we may ask for the account and its data to be deleted at any time by writing to admin@highschoolcompetition.org.
